Suggestions and Revisions:

The following suggestions were given by the subjects experts in this Board of Studies meeting.

B.Sc zoology

CC-IV- Developmental Biology and Immunology necessary corrections were made in unit- III, IV & V to get in depth knowledge about immunology.

CC-V- Genetics & Microbiology- Mendelian inheritance and syndromes were included

SBE-III- Vermiculture- Vermicomposting methods, Vermiwash and worm Tea were added.

CC-VII- Biotechnology necessary changes were made.

Necessary corrections were made for M.Sc syllabi also.

Suggestions given by the Board Members:

Overall, the B.Sc., zoology syllabus met the high standard. Each paper describes the aim of the course as objectives. Further each chapter starts with the introduction to provide basic information to the student or recall their memory. The syllabus designed to provide skill based knowledge to uplift their social economic status or find a job in a relevant area.

The M.Sc syllabus cover the basic as well as advanced subjects such as Biotechnology, Bioinformatics, Applied Entomology, coastal aquaculture, Fishery Biology and Fish processing Technology etc. An effort has been taken to incorporate the national Level Eligibility syllabus. In addition skill based course also included.

However, as a effective CBCS model choice paper/ course should be included in the elective papers of UG, PG in every semester.
